SA.25 Scrutiny Review: Veterans and Service Personnel

The Scrutiny Research Officer presented the final report in relation to the scrutiny review of Veterans and Service Personnel and took the Panel Members through each of the draft Cabinet recommendations, as outlined in the report.

Members considered each recommendation in turn and on conclusion, both the Service Manager, Scrutiny and Democratic Services and the Scrutiny Research Officer placed on record the Panel's appreciation to Mark Leek (founder of the Veterans Breakfast Club in Kirkby) and Gillian Welch (the Council's Senior Community Engagement Officer) for their valuable contributions towards the review and attendance at previous meetings.

SA.26 Scrutiny Review: Tenancy Support

The Chairman introduced the new Tenancy Support review topic to the Panel and extended a warm welcome to the Council's Service Manager, Housing Management & Tenancy Services, Nicky Moss and the Service Manager, Strategic Housing & Lettings, Phil Warrington.

Both officers were in attendance at the meeting to offer their particular insights into the support being offered to tenants, both public and private, to ensure their tenancies remained viable and to avoid any possible evictions or homelessness issues due to rent arrears, anti-social behaviour (ASB) or unscrupulous landlords.

The Service Manager, Housing Management & Tenancy Services gave an overview of her role in supporting Council tenants and managing rent arrears and income recovery, including general tenancy estate management once properties had been let through the Strategic Housing & Lettings Team.

From 2014, the process for seeking and determining evictions had been shared between the Housing Management and Tenancy Service Team and the Community Safety Team. The Community Safety Team predominately took charge of any evictions as a result of ASB with the Housing Management and Tenancy Service Team focussing on evictions due to rent arrears.

However, eviction was always seen as a last result and the Council offered a variety of support measures to assist tenants with maintaining their tenancies.

Money Management Service

Money management advice and supports for tenants was invaluable in helping them maximise their income, budgeting and assisting with additional benefit claim applications as required. This role also included a welfare element which saw officers assist tenants with applying and accessing charities and grant funding if applicable.

Tenancy Sustainment

Tenant support always commenced pre tenancy, with officers helping residents with affordability issues and initial set up of the property to make it habitable for moving in. Many new tenants did not possess furniture and officers regularly sourced furniture and white goods to enable people to settle into their new homes.

Officers also supported tenants to access the following:

- adequate fuel services
- foodbanks
- support through the Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB), British Legion and local charities
- grant funding opportunities and welfare support funds
- mental health services.

Prevention of Eviction

Part of the tenancy sustainment role was also to mitigate against any possible eviction risks as many tenants suffered mental health issues and struggled to cope with everyday life. Currently officers were assisting many tenants with booking their appointments for the first dose of the Covid-19 vaccine alongside other supportive measures to protect health and wellbeing wherever possible.

A current Performance Indicator (PI) for the Tenancy Sustainment Team was to ensure that 95% of new tenants remain in their tenancies past the 6 month introductory milestone and so far this target had always been met.

However, there were many reasons why persons were evicted from properties and many of their needs could be complex and difficult to address. Over the previous 12 months, 20 people had been evicted from Council properties as a result of rent arrears. From a tenancy list of over 6, 500, this figure was extremely low and it was to be welcomed that the figure continued to fall year on year (24 evictions in 2019 and 37 in 2018).

Members however, were asked to acknowledge that there was a big difference between tenants who couldn't pay and tenants who wouldn't pay and that there would always be a small element of people who would endeavour to abuse the system and avoid paying rent.

A question and answer session ensued, and Members considered the following:

- the impact on the Council, due to the current ban on evictions as a result of the pandemic and acknowledgement that there were some preliminary cases for seeking possession which had commenced prior to Covid-19, that were now on hold with rent arrears continuing to escalate
- the impact of the pandemic on many households with tenants continuing to lose valuable jobs and their ability to pay rent
- the situation regarding rent arrears within Ashfield and how the Council was currently managing to keep it stable with the majority of cases being as a result of Universal Credit (UC) debt
- the excellent work undertaken by the Council's Housing Officers to support tenants within Ashfield and the important role of Councillors in developing relationships with their local residents and being able to raise issues of concerns with officers as they arose
- the effectiveness of the Council's 'Money Advisers' and the achievement of preventing 73 people from being evicted during 2020, ensuring 52 tenants got access to adequate fuel services and many more tenants being successful in accessing grant and charity funding to increase their income
- disappointment that the Government were not currently assisting local authorities with their levels of rent arrears and the fact that the Council were currently mapping the data and impact on a weekly basis to inform discussion in the future
- the upsetting realisation that the situation was most probably going to worsen post Covid-19, with many further job losses to come due to the impact of the pandemic on national and local economies
- acknowledgment that the Council still offered two 'rent free catch up' weeks, during any 12-month period, to all tenants including those managing previous rent arrears.

The Service Manager, Strategic Housing & Lettings then gave an overview of his role which included the day to day management of lettings to new tenants, homelessness and private sector enforcement.

From his perspective, it had been a particularly tough year for everyone. Rough sleepers had the added threat of contracting the virus alongside the other challenging issues they were having to face on a daily basis and incidences of domestic violence and parental evictions had also increased over the course of the pandemic.

Many private sector tenants were struggling to pay rent and were having to face the increased threat of receiving S8 and S21 eviction notices including the additional fear of becoming homeless as a result of their financial difficulties. Members were advised that these problems were escalating as the pandemic continued and officers would soon be seeing the effects of this distressing situation once the temporary ban on evictions was lifted.

Homelessness

With regards to the prevention of homelessness, it was imperative that intervention came in the early stages rather than officers only becoming involved when tenants reached crisis point. It was always better to start offering support and guidance to tenants who were £500 in arrears rather than trying to salvage a level of arrears in excess of £2,000.

The Council offered support in the following ways:

- encouraging people to join the Council's Housing Register as soon as possible to ensure all their needs and difficulties were recorded and acted upon at an early stage
- provision of an online triage process for homelessness enquiries
- provision of urgent advice and support to tenants as required
- access to funding to pay rent arrears to landlords in certain circumstances.

Many private sector tenants have been struggling over the past 12 months and had contacted the Council for advice. On the whole, most landlords were reasonable and acknowledged that even the best tenants could have difficulties at certain times in their lives. As a result of this, many landlords did try and assist their tenants wherever possible to keep them in their tenancies and avoid eviction if at all possible.

At the start of the pandemic the Government realised quickly that lockdown would make rough sleepers particularly vulnerable and did provide funding to enable local authorities to get people off the streets and into temporary accommodation. This had worked well within Ashfield and the Council were currently in the process of recruiting an Outreach Officer to provide assertive outreach in order to try and engage or re-engage the homeless population into finding suitable accommodation, work and accessing services for any medical or mental health needs as required.

The Council were also endeavouring to recruit a Landlord Liaison Officer. Unfortunately, the Council did not have enough housing stock to provide accommodation for all, so the officer would be responsible for tapping into the private sector to find suitable homes for all persons seeking housing assistance through the Council. It would also enable the Council to catch people earlier in the system and meet their housing needs more quickly.

A question and answer session again ensued, and Members considered the following:

- acknowledgement that rents were higher in the Hucknall area
- provision of the former 'housing bond scheme' and how the Council now accessed funding through a Prevention Scheme to assist private tenants with a cash deposit and/or rent in advance or by assisting them with applications for discretionary housing payment (DHP) as part of their Housing Benefit or Universal Credit claims

- the process for dealing with any persons presenting themselves to the Council as homeless including an initial assessment and then a series of tests to enable the Council to establish the person's (or family's) immediate needs
- acknowledgement that it was more challenging to provide suitable accommodation for single person's rather than families and in some situations only shared accommodation could be offered
- how the Council's Private Sector Enforcement Team carried out checks to establish if private sector rental properties on offer were up to an acceptable standard and acknowledgement that the Housing Liaison Officers were also trained to undertake checks to Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS) standards.

To conclude the Service Manager, Scrutiny and Democratic Services thanked both Nicky Moss and Phil Warrington for attending the meeting and providing their expertise in relation to the Council's provision of tenancy support. Having heard all the information, Members were asked to consider how best the topic could be reviewed and to agree the most appropriate terms of reference.

RESOLVED

that the terms of reference for the 'Tenancy Support' review be considered and agreed at an informal meeting of the Scrutiny Panel in March 2021.

The meeting closed at 8.09 pm

Detailed Information

RESEARCH TO DATE

Due to the length of time from the previous formal meeting of Scrutiny Panel A, please see below research considered to date

Information for Tenants

Various information is made available on the Council's website under the housing section regarding tenancies. Please see the information below:

Your Tenancy

When you become a tenant, you will be given a tenancy agreement which sets out our responsibilities as your landlord, and your responsibilities as our tenant. You can find all the details of your tenancy in the tenant portal.

Types of Tenancy

There are two types of tenant:

- Introductory Tenancy

If you have not been a council tenant before you will be given an introductory tenancy.

This is a temporary tenancy that lasts for 12 months. It means you have fewer rights than a secure tenant. It also means it is easier for us to evict you if we need to.

Your tenancy will be reviewed at regular intervals to ensure that you are conducting your tenancy in a satisfactory manner. If you breach your tenancy, we may extend this period by another 6 months.

- Secure Tenancy

All introductory tenants will automatically become secure tenants on the first anniversary of the date of the start of their tenancy. This only happens if they have conducted their tenancy in a satisfactory manner.

A secure tenancy gives you more rights.

Rights and Responsibilities

As your landlord we have some rights and responsibilities and as a tenant you have rights and responsibilities too. Your tenancy agreement will set these out for you.

Your Rights

As a tenant you have the right:

- to be consulted about the way we manage your property and any changes that may be made
- to make alterations or improvements with our written permission
- to live in the property as your principle home
- to exercise your legal rights as a tenant
- to have any repairs that are our responsibility carried out

- to take on a lodger as long as we have granted permission. We will take into consideration the house make-up and the capacity of your home.

Your Responsibilities

As a tenant you have the responsibility:

- to pay your rent and other charges on time
- to keep the inside of your home and your garden in a satisfactory condition
- to ensure your household/visitors/pets do not cause nuisance to your neighbours
- to give us access to complete any repairs, annual service works or to allow employees and contractors to go about their duties
- to raise awareness of repairs needed. Not to alter the property without written consent. Inform us of any struggles you face with your tenancy, so we can signpost you to the relevant support agencies
- to adhere to your tenancy conditions to prevent court action being taken against you.

Our Rights

As a landlord we have the right:

- to request access to the property to carry out inspection or repairs. We will give you reasonable notice of our intention, unless it is an emergency
- ask the courts to end your tenancy if you break the conditions of your tenancy agreement.

Our Responsibilities

As a landlord we have the responsibility:

- to consult with you about important changes to the management of your tenancy
- to deal with your complaints
- to maintain service standards
- to ensure the tenancy agreement is being adhered to at all times
- to act on any repairs that are our responsibility.

Pre-action Protocol for Possession Claims by Social Landlords

In adding this topic to the workplan, Members expressed an interest in understanding the procedures the Council must follow regarding evictions.

Please see below the Government procedure for social landlord evictions.

The Government have set out a Pre-Action protocol that describes the actions the Council, as social landlords, must take before issuing a possession claim against a tenant. This came into force on 13 January 2020.

Part 1: Aims and Scope of the Protocol

This Protocol applies to residential possession claims in England and Wales brought by social landlords (such as local authorities and housing associations). This Part sets out the aims and scope of the protocol. Part 2 relates to claims which are based solely on rent arrears. Part 3 applies to claims brought by social landlords where the court must, in principle, grant possession and where s89(1) Housing Act 1980 applies. The protocol does not apply to claims in respect of long leases.

Part 2 reflects the guidance on good practice given to social landlords in the collection of rent arrears. It recognises that it is in the interests of both social landlords and tenants to ensure that rent is paid promptly and that difficulties are resolved, wherever possible, without court proceedings.

Part 3 seeks to ensure that, in cases where human rights, public law or equality law matters are or may be raised, the necessary information is before the Court at the first hearing so that issues of proportionality may be dealt with summarily, if appropriate, or that appropriate directions for trial may be given.

The aims of the protocol are:

- a. to encourage more pre-action contact and exchange of information between landlords and tenants.
- b. to enable the parties to avoid litigation by settling the matter, if possible; and
- c. to enable court time to be used more effectively if proceedings are necessary.

Courts should take into account whether this protocol has been followed when considering what orders to make. Social landlords should also comply with guidance issued from time to time by the Regulator of Social Housing, the Ministry for Housing, Communities and Local Government and, in Wales, the Welsh Ministers.

- a. If the landlord is aware that the tenant has difficulty in reading or understanding information given, the landlord should take reasonable steps to ensure that the tenant understands any information given. The landlord should be able to demonstrate that reasonable steps have been taken to ensure that the information has been appropriately communicated in ways that the tenant can understand.
- b. If the landlord is aware that the tenant is particularly vulnerable, the landlord should consider at an early stage—
 - I. whether or not the tenant has the mental capacity to defend possession proceedings and the extent to which CPR 21 applies;
 - II. whether or not any issues arise under the Equality Act 2010; and
 - III. in the case of a local authority landlord, whether or not there is a need for a community care assessment in accordance with the Care Act 2014.

Part 2: Possession Claims Based Upon Rent Arrears

Initial contact

If the tenant falls into arrears, the landlord should contact the tenant, as soon as reasonably possible, to discuss: the cause of the arrears; the tenant's financial circumstances; the tenant's entitlement to benefits; and repayment of the arrears. Where contact is by letter, the landlord should write separately to each named tenant.

The landlord and tenant should try to agree affordable sums for the tenant to pay towards the arrears, based upon the tenant's income and expenditure (where such information has been supplied in response to the landlord's enquiries). The landlord should clearly set out, in pre-action correspondence, any time limits with which the tenant should comply.

The landlord should provide, on a quarterly basis, rent statements in a comprehensible format showing rent due and sums received for the past 13 weeks. The landlord should, upon request, provide the tenant with copies of rent statements in a comprehensible format, from the date when arrears first arose, showing all amounts of rent due, the dates and amounts of all payments made (whether through housing benefit, discretionary housing payments or directly by the tenant) and a running total of the arrears.

If the tenant meets the appropriate criteria, the landlord should apply for arrears to be paid by the Department for Work and Pensions ['DWP'] by deductions from the tenant's benefit.

The landlord should offer to assist the tenant in any claim that the tenant may have for housing benefit, discretionary housing payments or universal credit (housing element).

Possession proceedings for rent arrears should not be started against a tenant who can demonstrate that –

- a. the local authority or DWP have been provided with all the evidence required to process a housing benefit or universal credit (housing element) claim.
- b. there is a reasonable expectation of eligibility for housing benefit or universal credit (housing element); and
- c. they have paid other sums due that are not covered by housing benefit or universal credit (housing element).

The landlord should make every effort to establish effective ongoing liaison with housing benefit departments and the DWP and, with the tenant's consent, make direct contact with the relevant housing benefit department or DWP office before taking enforcement action.

The landlord and tenant should work together to resolve any housing benefit or universal credit (housing element) problems.

Bearing in mind that rent arrears may be part of a general debt problem, the landlord should advise the tenant to seek assistance from citizens advice bureaux, debt advice agencies or other appropriate agencies as soon as possible. Information on debt advice is available on the Money Advice Service website.

After service of statutory notices

After service of a statutory notice, but before the issue of proceedings, the landlord should make reasonable attempts to contact the tenant to discuss: the amount of the arrears; the cause of the arrears; repayment of the arrears; and the housing benefit or universal credit (housing element) position. The landlord should send the tenant a copy of this protocol.

If the tenant complies with an agreement to pay the current rent and a reasonable amount towards arrears, the landlord should agree to postpone issuing court proceedings for so long as the tenant keeps to such agreement. If the tenant ceases to comply with such an agreement, the landlord should warn the tenant of the intention to bring proceedings and give the tenant clear time limits within which to comply again and avoid proceedings.

Alternative dispute resolution

The parties should consider whether it is possible to resolve the issues between them by discussion and negotiation without recourse to litigation. The parties may be required by the court to provide evidence that alternative means of resolving the dispute were considered. Courts take the view that litigation should be a last resort, and that claims should not be issued prematurely when a settlement is still actively being explored.

The Civil Justice Council and the Judicial College have endorsed The Jackson ADR Handbook by Susan Blake, Julie Browne, and Stuart Sime (2013, Oxford University Press). The Citizens Advice Bureaux website also provides information about ADR:

- the Civil Mediation Council
- the Citizens Advice website

Court proceedings

Not later than ten days before the date set for the hearing of the possession claim, the landlord should—

- a. provide the tenant with up-to-date rent statements; and
- b. disclose what knowledge it possesses of the tenant's housing benefit or universal credit (housing element) position to the tenant.

The landlord should inform the tenant of the date and time of any court hearing and provide an up-to-date rent statement and the terms of the order that will be applied for. The landlord should advise the tenant to attend the hearing as the tenant's home is at risk. Records of such advice should be kept.

If the tenant complies with an agreement made, after the issue of proceedings, to pay the current rent and a reasonable amount towards arrears, the landlord should agree to adjourn the court proceedings for so long as the tenant keeps to such agreement.

If the tenant ceases to comply with such agreement, the landlord should warn the tenant of the intention to restore the proceedings and give the tenant clear time limits within which to comply again and avoid restoration of the proceedings.

If the landlord unreasonably fails to comply with the terms of this protocol, the court may make one or more of the following orders—

- a. an order for costs.
- b. an order adjourning the claim; or
- c. an order striking out or dismissing the claim (other than a claim based on a mandatory ground).

If the tenant unreasonably fails to comply with the terms of this protocol, the court may take such failure into account when considering whether it is reasonable to make a possession order.

Part 3: Mandatory Grounds for Possession

This Part applies in cases where, if a social landlord proves its case, the court must, in principle, grant possession and where s.89(1) Housing Act 1980 applies

Before issuing any such possession claim a social landlord—

- a. should write to the occupants explaining why it currently intends to seek possession and requiring the occupants, within a specified time, to notify the landlord in writing of any personal circumstances or other matters which they wish to have taken into account. In appropriate cases, such a letter could accompany any notice to quit or notice seeking possession and so would not necessarily delay the issue of proceedings; and
- b. should consider any representations received and, if they decide to proceed with a claim for possession, give brief written reasons for doing so.

The social landlord should include with its claim form, or in any witness statement filed under CPR 55.8(3), a schedule stating—

- a. whether it has (by a statutory review procedure or otherwise) invited the defendant to make representations of any personal circumstances or other matters which they wished to be taken into account before the social landlord issued the proceedings.
- b. if representations were made, whether and how they were considered and with what outcome; and
- c. brief reasons for bringing proceedings.

Copies of any relevant documents which the social landlord wishes the court to consider in relation to the proportionality of the landlord's decision to bring the proceedings should be attached to the schedule.

RECENT INFORMATION

Following the informal working group held in March, Members raised a series of questions to be answered ahead of the next Panel meeting.

- Do we know the number of Council tenancies in arrears with COVID-19 recognised as a reason for financial difficulties due to job losses, furlough etc?

No, we would log this individually on the tenant's diary notes and is taken into account/noted on equality and proportionality checklists, if enforcement action is being considered. However, we do not keep a centralised log.

- Do we have a comparative figure for tenancy debt now compared to pre-covid?

Arrears at Week 51 (Start of first lockdown – 2019/20)

2018/2019	Current Tenants	£396,485.43 (UC - £107,845.11)	Former Tenants	£197,097.31.
2019/20	Current Tenants	£455,790.42 (UC – £271,878.40)	Former Tenants	£261,094.01 (as at March 2020)
2020/21	Current Tenants	£469,046.98 (UC - £316,950.74)	Former Tenants	£265,568.27 (as at March 2021)

Arrears at Week 13 (latest rent week)

2019/20	Current Tenants	£365,496.53 (UC - £148,989.16)	Former Tenants	£231,039.42 (June 2019)
2020/21	Current Tenants	£468,333.32 (UC - £312, 782.55)	Former Tenants	£283,027.40 (June 2020)
2021/22	Current Tenants	£420,342.64 (UC - £271,526.67)	Former Tenants	£321,417.08 (as at 28 June 2021)

- Do we actively work with the Private Sector to scope solutions to waiting lists and if so how (In February we were trying to recruit a landlord Liaison Officer)?

Yes. We have a part time landlord liaison officer funded through MHCLG Rough Sleeper Initiative Funding. The officer's role is to engage with landlords and lettings agents, with a view to making properties available for homeless applicants and those threatened with homelessness.

We are expanding on this with a further 2 Early Intervention Officers being appointed, one to focus on finding more private landlords and private renting opportunities, the other to get upstream in respect of identifying and assisting those at risk of homelessness. Another role we are introducing, an Assertive Outreach Officer, they will assist in meeting the support needs of the increasing vulnerable applicants who are applying as homeless.

- What has been the impact of the last 16 months on the housing waiting list?

Number of applicants on the Housing Register is 3903, a few hundred higher than 12 months ago. However, what we have seen is a significant increase the average number of bids per property. Each 2-bed flat is now averaging 150+ bids. The Housing Register is reviewed on a regular basis and so whilst we do have a high number of new applications, typically 50 per week, we are also closing applications.

- Have we seen more people entering temporary accommodation?

The number of temporary accommodation units was increased following the onset of the pandemic and the everyone in directive. We have retained all the units for the time being as we are expecting a surge in demand for temporary accommodation now that the moratorium on evictions has ended and landlords will start to recover possession of their homes. How much demand will surge is as yet unknown.

- Do we have a comprehensive figure for homelessness in Ashfield?

	06 July 2020	06 July 2021
Households owed the Prevention Duty	44	52
Households owed the Relief Duty	34	42
Households in temporary accommodation	33	39
Main Duty owed but not yet discharged	30	27
Snapshot of rough sleepers in Ashfield (taken from number	2 to 4	3 to 6 of individuals seen by the Street Outreach Team on a particular night)

- Are we seeing a benefit to the Selective Licensing Scheme?

Selective licensing has improved the management and maintenance of private rented properties in the 2 designated areas – New Cross and Stanton Hill. However, problems in the area do persist. The SL scheme is due to come to an end in Feb 2022 and we are about to commence a review of the scheme to determine if it should be extended or ended.

- How are we approaching under occupancy? Is there any way to link incentives such as the distribution of new bungalows to those currently under occupying family homes?

Housing applicants who are under occupying a council or housing association property in the District are given priority to move to alternative accommodation. As and when we get to the position of allocating the new bungalows being developed by the Council at the Beeches and Poplars we will consider existing ADC tenants who are under occupying and who need that type of accommodation.

NEXT STEPS

A scrutiny review of Tenancy Support was originally approved to the Scrutiny Workplan to ensure that when the government enforced restrictions on evictions ceased, Ashfield residents receive appropriate support and advice on maintaining their tenancy and money management.

Following the last meeting of the Panel and subsequent informal group meeting, Members have raised a number of additional areas of consideration. These include;

- Housing register waiting times
- Homelessness
- Engaging with the private sector

To ensure that consideration of tenancy issues remains focussed, Members of the Panel are requested to discuss any further areas for consideration related to tenancy support. It should be noted that if Members wish to expand the scope to include any of the above issues, the Terms of Reference for the review will need to be amended.
